Top10MD Honors Plano Plastic Surgeon Robert Wilcox, MD

Dallas, Texas – December 8, 2015 – Top10MD – America's first and only standards-based patient advocacy service – is pleased to announce Plastic Surgeon Robert Wilcox of Plano, TX is named for our elite team of North Texas providers. Only 1 in 3 doctors succeeds with this recognition in the United States.

"The model of trust in physician care has evolved tremendously," says Robert Wilcox, MD. "A credentialing service is almost a necessity for families for making informed healthcare decisions."

Dr. Wilcox is the Founder and Director of the Plastic & Cosmetic Surgery Center of Texas. After graduating from Texas A&M University Magna Cum Laude, he attended the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, graduating in 1984 near the top of his class. After medical school, Dr. Wilcox completed eight years of resident training in three specialties. He trained in General Surgery at the University of Florida from 1984 through 1989. Afterward, he returned to Dallas for his Plastic Surgery training at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School. Following that, he was invited to remain as a Fellow in Hand and Microsurgery at Southwestern. He attained Board Certification in all three specialties, a testament to his dedication to quality and excellence.

Jana Barrington, Dr. Robert Wilcox

"We are privileged to have Dr. Wilcox recognized as a Top10MD," stated Jana Barrington, Founder, and CEO. "Dr. Wilcox is a recognized leader in the practice of plastic surgery. We invite consumers to learn more about his knowledge, experience, and technical skills."

The mission of Top10MD is to provide consumers with access to physicians whose credentials are validated annually meeting core standards – creating transparency and trust for all. Top10MD.com launched in Dallas Fort Worth and is building a strong following among consumers.

For many consumers, finding a medical specialist they can trust is a painstaking and daunting process. Preventable medical errors alone are responsible for the deaths of 440,000 Americans each year as reported by the prestigious Journal of Patient Safety. Even with a referral from their physician, there are no guarantees that the doctor a patient chooses will be someone whom they can trust.

"Top10MD plans to expand across the United States," says Ms. Barrington. "Our mission is to help connect patients to doctors in their city... doctors they and their family trust."
